BRAND OVERVIEW

Creative Play Retailer Magazine is designed to help retailers in the children's toy, game, hobby, books and music retail industries gain valuable insight into the market dynamics affecting businesses. This includes the latest toy industry news, trade show news, consumer trends, hot products and new product introductions.

What makes our digital trade magazine stand-alone is its ability to provide retailers with top rated reviews of products that are endorsed by Creative Child Magazine, parents and educators. This enables buyers to better understand what the market truly thinks of the products that are presented.

AUDIENCE

Each year, Creative Play Retailer has grown stronger, allowing advertisers to engage confidently with retail buyers.

Our subscription list consists of toy retailers, wholesalers, sales representatives and other industry members. Our list has been organic in its growth using trade show retailer attendee connections; creating one of the most influential lists in the industry.

MARKET:

Our subscriber base creates awareness for partner brands on a nationwide scale.
